WELCOME

---

Welcome to Taranaki for our seventh Trail. Our committee is grateful for the vital support of sponsors, patrons and local businesses as well as artists who help with media referrals, signs and brochure distribution.

Eighty-nine artists and just three days (Fri/Sat/Sun) to see them might seem a bit daunting. Our website www.taranakiartstrail.co.nz displays images and information about every artist and will sort by category and location. We realise that visitors get rushed and studios get crowded, but fortunately many artists open their studios to visitors by appointment and this brochure is a sturdy publication which is intended to last the year between Trails. Our experienced coordinator Niki at taranakiartstrail@gmail.com is available for advice. For an early look before the Trail weekend, a work by every artist can be seen in Stratford's Percy Thomson Gallery.

We have 31 new artists and a refreshingly broad range of work using all manner of methods and materials. Some artists are well-known and some new and anxious, but every one of them has decided to host an open studio. Visitors will see some finished work and if they choose, can ask about the artistic process, materials, aims, philosophy etc. Hopefully you will enjoy this marvellous chance to get inside a whole lot of little art factories.

Taranaki arts trail

5/6/7
June 2020

ABOUT

---

Many people from Taranaki take off for education or jobs or OE - artists among them. Some return to settle here and resume their art, but they have 'been away' and it shows. Artistic newcomers arrive and stir the mix. As a result the ways and means and colours of the big wide world have long influenced the portrayal of local things. On this Trail you can find fascinating photography and objects imaginatively rendered in glass or stone or wood, clay, fibre, metal etc as well as many types of painting. In effect the Trail is run as though it were one big diffuse exhibition for the community, but more importantly, it is to have our artists talk to a lot of interested people.

Admission is free and the studios are open from 9.30am to 4.30pm on Friday to Sunday the 5th to 7th of June 2020. To help plan your tour the brochure has been subdivided into four geographical regions. This brochure with an inserted foldout map shows the location of all the artists as well as partner galleries and hospitality venues. Preceding the open studios weekend, the Percy Thomson Gallery exhibition and Trail opening will jumpstart the event. In getting about you might see that Taranaki has some spectacular scenery too.

Your key to the Trail
- these orange flags
show you where the studios are located.

Extended hours for the Trail
9.30 am - 4.30 pm

Percy Thomson Gallery is Stratford's thriving public art gallery and was opened in June 2002 following a bequest by former mayor and businessman Percy Thomson.

The gallery has developed and grown over the years, receiving national recognition as a thriving and diverse exhibition space. New exhibitions start every three to four weeks, and vary between national, local and regional artists – established and emerging.

The gallery's boutique art shop, Percy's Place, features high quality work from local artists.

The Taranaki Arts Trail is extremely grateful for the continuing support of the Gallery. The annual exhibition of Trail artists work gives the Trail a huge boost and allows visitors a preview of the art of Taranaki.

The Taranaki Arts Trail exhibition is open from Saturday May 23 at Percy Thomson Gallery. This is a wonderful opportunity for art enthusiasts to view the work of Trail members before putting together their list of 'must-sees', says Gallery Director Rhonda Bunyan.

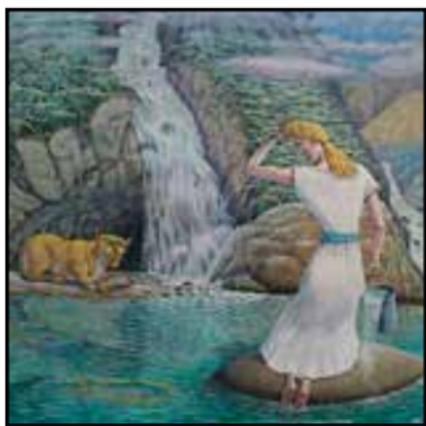

Percy Thomson would be well pleased with the strongly-forged connections that continue to be built on between his home town, art, culture and heritage. Stratford District residents have benefited immensely from his generous legacy and delight in calling this gallery their own.

Marbles Buffet, New Plymouth, meal vouchers.

51 VALMA TAYLOR

Painting

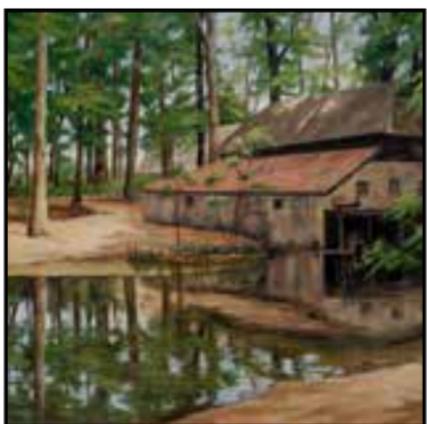

I paint mainly in watercolours, but also lately using coloured pencils and pastels. Works often reflect my love of gardening or the natural world.

a: The Gables, Brooklands Park Drive,
New Plymouth

p: 022 564 1459

e: valma_kt@yahoo.com

w: facebook.com/ValmaTaylor

52 FERN PARMENTIER

Painting

Realistic paintings of things that inspire me, I tend to paint in oils mainly.

55 PANTEA RASTEGARI

Painting

My art is ultimate reflect of people's emotion. Painting and drawing give me the ability to communicate non-verbally as sometimes emotion does not fit in words. Received two NZ national awards.

a: 221 Heta Road, New Plymouth

56 JANA BRANCA

Painting

I am particularly interested in our 'human condition', and see the common denominator of our humanity, as the crown of creation, as more fundamental than any of our differences.

a: 838 Mangorei Rd, New Plymouth

57 JAN HUYBERS

Painting

My inspiration is based on the images seen on the surface of seashells. The images are grown on the shell in a perfectly balanced way by nature and this intrigues me to challenge that by rearranging and regrouping these images for artistic purpose and place them in my final design.

a: Volcanoview Cafe, 1917 Egmont Road, RD6

a: Norfolk Hall, 2080 Mountain Rd, Norfolk

p: 027 348 6826

e: postiehitchcock@gmail.com

69 DIMPHY DE VAAN

Mixed Media

Art for me is freedom from the noise of life.

With few preconceived notions, my works are largely explorative. Complimentary cuppa and panoramic views from my home studio.

a: 159 Makara Road, RD10, Inglewood

p: 027 634 6749

e: DimphyArt@gmail.com

w: facebook.com/DimphyArt
